Shinagawa Municipal Environment Learning Exchange Facility: ECORU Togoshi

The south-facing exterior of the facility

ECORU Togoshi is a municipal facility where you can learn about the environment, attend exchange programs and more. The facility, which opened in May within Togoshi Park, offers visual exhibits that simulate the relationship between how we live and the natural environment, as well as hands-on permanent exhibits that emphasize the senses of sight, hearing and touch. In addition, the facility conducts various events and classes so that visitors can enjoy learning about the environment. ECORU Togoshi also has a community lounge, kids space and rental rooms, allowing city residents and those at the park to use the facility as a place to relax and enjoy friendly exchanges.
